

Jeffrey K Clarke

Biography

Jeffrey Clarke has been a researcher, student, disciple, speaker and writer of Biblical Studies for over 30 years.

He has served in the past as Vice President and President on the Bethlehem Spokesman Club.

A graduate of the Lansdale School of Business, he holds a degree in Computer Science and has run several businesses in the import/export, real estate development and computer consulting industries.

Currently he serves as President of Messianic Discipleship Institute, is Pastor of Kahal Elohim and is Executive Director of American Judeo-Christian Charities.

Topics

As a Messianic and a strong advocate for Israel, Jeffrey feels like a bridge between Judaism and Christianity. His desire is to help Christians learn and educate them on the history of Israel, the Feasts of Leviticus 23 and how it all points to Jesus (Yeshua); and to bring unity and acceptance of Messianics to his Jewish Othodox brethren and that on both sides, we have more similarities than differences.

Timely, newsworthy topics include:

- the history of Israel as it relates to Middle East politics.

- why the mainstream media and the U.N. always seem to vilify Israel and why we are in a spiritual battle.

- understanding God's plan for humanity through the Biblical Feasts and why they are for Christians too.

Workshop Seminar Series on:

- Take Charge of Your Health
- Fulfilling Your Financial Destiny
- Developing the Leader Within
- Planting Your Harvest Seed
